Rema Foods Supply Chain

“Guaranteed” Service Level

Supply Chain Mission

Rema Foods is not your typical “importer”. We are an imported goods supply chain solution that believes our responsibility is much more than just shipping products from overseas. Our job is to ensure we listen to our customers, and their consumers, to provide solutions that meet both of their expectations.

We work diligently to find safe, quality certified products and orchestrate the best model to get them from Harvest all the way to the Consumer’s Table. Stringent supplier vetting, quality assurance, collaborative demand planning, efficient logistics, and category management practices all provide a solid platform to identify and sell more opportunities.

Supply Chain Principals

- Supply chain models based on the service needs of each customer
- Customize logistics needs of each product segment
- Align demand planning across the supply chain
- Utilize information technology to support multi-level decision making
- Adopt service level and financial metrics
- Embrace Category Management practices to identify opportunities and create consumer demand
